Deadline For Entering Chambers Broiler Contest Set For April 16

One thousand downy baby chicks, New Hampshires, will be distributed between 20 Milam County Future Farmers and 4-H boys by 20 merchants who signed as sponsors for the Chamber of Commerce Broiler Contest which is to start on May 4.

Final day for registering as sponsor was Friday, April 9. Robert Abel, manager of the C of C announced today that the final day for contestants to present their names to their teacher or county agent for entry in the contest will be Friday, April 16.

If over 20 boys register names will be drawn by lot, since there will be only a limited number of chicks and sponsors available.

If there are merchants who wish to register as sponsors now, may do so on the condition that enough baby chicks are available to warrant other entries.

Presentation of the chicks by the sponsor to the boys will take place at the courthouse on May fourth at 5 p.m.

The contestants will then take the chicks and raise them according to standards approved by FFA and 4-H Clubs and then on Saturday, July 17, ten weeks after the opening of the contest, each contestant will choose the best five chickens from his flock and enter them in the poultry show to be held that day.

Judges selected by the Chamber of Commerce, will judge the chickens on standard points for broiler shows and six cash prizes and certificates will be awarded.

Each contestant will present his five show chickens to his sponsor and the remainder of the flock will belong to the contestant.

At the close of the contest each sponsor will take his contestant to an award banquet on Saturday, July 17, where the awards will be presented by a representative of the Chamber of Commerce.

Castor Beans May Now Be Found At Local PMA Office

Those farming castor beans this year will find that harvesting will be a simple matter. Last year the stalks had to be stripped by hand since the beans had a tendency to schatter.

This year a new type hybrid bean has been discovered and the beans can be left on the stalk until the first frost and a stripper will be made available to the farmer which will simplify the harvest and probably increase the yield.

The beans can now be found at the local Production Marketing Association office and are on sale for 14 cents per pound. Officials of that office have stated that there will be no limit to the acreage individual farmers can plant.

New Jobs for Texans

Texas industries have been providing new jobs for Texans at the rate of about 70,000 a year. That's about 200 new jobs every day.

All kinds of jobs . . . in offices, on construction work, in manufacturing plants, in the development of the natural resources of the State. Jobs for riggers, for secretaries, for engineers, for truck drivers, for accountants, for lawyers, for crane operators, for decorators, for sailors . . . all kinds of jobs.

And the reason why these new jobs have been, and continue to be available is this: Texas industry is expanding, and industry makes jobs.

On the average, each new job created in Texas requires the investment of $12,000 capital*. Thus, Texas industry invests over three-quarters of a billion dollars each year in new plants and in plant expansion to create 70,000 new Texas jobs.

Much of this annual investment in new jobs for Texans is made by the oil industry itself and industries which depend on oil and natural gas for fuel and raw materials. Every year a wider variety of industries put to profitable use a larger number of the resources of the State, and call on a broader assortment of available Texas skills.

Forecasters predict an even greater industrial development in Texas, and an even larger number of new jobs, as more industries recognize the advantages that Texas offers: good markets, raw and manufactured resources, trustworthy and dependable people, efficient and abundant fuel, a mild climate, and a good state government . . . In that list of advantages, the Texas oil industry provides raw materials for processing, and the world's finest industrial fuel—natural gas.

*In the oil industry, the required investment for each new job is over $10,000.

Population Signs At City's Limits Due For Change

Cameron's population signs at the city limits are due for a change. They read 5,227, which was the number recorded during the last taking of the census in 1950, and should read, to be accurate, a little better than 7,000. according to Mayor O. B. Horstmann and water superintendent Alvin Hefft.

Hefft explained that is customary, in determining the populace, to take the number of water connections and multiply by four.

There has been a steady increase of connections since 1945, he reported, and the number now in use is 1,792, which means that the water department, and the city residents should number approximately 7,168.

Mayor Horstmann said that the City Council is now in the process of making the necessary steps to have the population records for the city, and the signs at the edge of town, changed.

He reported that to start the ball rolling a new ordinance must be drawn up stating the actual population, using the co-efficient of the water connections times four. A copy of the ordinance and a letter requesting that the figures be changed must then be sent to the State Highway Department, which will see that the signs and records are corrected.

Milam Castor Bean Hulling Mill Set Up

A castor bean hulling station will set up in Cameron for the convenience of growers in Milam County this season, according to Floyd Carpenter, Manager of the Southland Cotton Oil Company in Cameron. The hulling station will be located at the Southland Mill and will be of the capacity to hull several thousand acres of castor beans. Carpenter stated that several surrounding counties probably will bring beans into Cameron for hulling.

He stated that his company will purchase the beans this year direct from the growers as they are hulled, if the market price is at least 6c or above. Otherwise CCC will buy the beans at the support price of 6c per pound at the mill. It is expected that Southland's warehouse in Cameron will be approved CCC storage for beans in the event that all beans move to CCC.

The facilities which will be available for Milam County castor bean growers will be the most convenient offered in the state, Carpenter said.

Randolph Field Has Collection of Flags; 1 From Texas

On March 2, the anniversary of Texas Independence, at the Air Force School of Aviation Medicine, another flag was added to the prized collection of 37 banners of other lands, representing more than 150 air surgeons from overseas who have sudied at the Randolph Field institution.

This time it was the standard of the Republic of Korea.

Master Sgt. Virgil A. Turner, the School Inspector, was standing by. To no one in particular, he added: "Have we got a Texas flag in this collection?"

Sergeant Turner hails from Cameron and won the Bronze Star for service in Korea, along with five battle stars for his campaign ribbon.

Said Major Auben W. Brunnemann, the School Secretary; "Why sure we haven't". Major Brunnemann is a native of San Antonio.

"Shouldn't we have?" said Texan Turner.

"We definitely should," said Texan Brunnemann

Undismayed, Sergeant Turner hailed the first dozen or so airmen who passed by his desk. Five were from Texas, and they offered to contribute to the purchase of a Texas flag. One was from Brooklyn. He added his bit too.

A little later, cash in hand, the custodian of the flag collection went to town and bought a handsome Lone Star banner.

In the minds of non-Texans, the question now arrises: Are there 39 foreign flags in the School collection, or 38 foreign flags and one from Texas? Texans know, but they don't say. Anyhow Randolph Field is Texas soil.

Master Sgt. Turner has been in the States for about two years after serving 23 months in Japan and Korea, 10 months of which were spent in the War Zone near Seoul.

Master Sgt. and Mrs. Turner now live in Seguin with their sons, Tommy, 10 years old and Garry, 4 years-of-age. Sgt. Turner is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Turner of Cameron.

Summer Camp, Dress Revue And Round Up On 4-H Club Slate

Plans are being made throughout the county by 4-H Clubs and Home demonstration Clubs for the annual Dress Revue, scheduled to be May 8 at Simon-George Memorial Hall in Cameron. Mrs. Alice Hughes, County home demonstration agent, is in charge of the clubs.

4-H members from Buckholts, San Gabriel, Burlington, Thorndale and Milano are expected to enter the Revue. Other members from Gause Davilla and Marak will take part on the program for the day.

Mrs. Hughes has just recently organized another 4-H Club in Milam County. Seventy-five prospective members showed up at Rockdale Elementary School last week when the first step was taken for a Rockdale 4-H Club. Only last September did Mrs. Hughes help organize a club at Marak, Gause and Davilla.

One of the main items to come up this summer will be 2 outstanding 4-H members from Milam County who will be selected to attend the Texas Power & Light Co. sponsored camp at Trinity, Texas. The camp, which will be held on June 29-30 and July 1, is an all expenses paid camp for four outstanding members of the boys and girls 4-H Clubs from the different Districts in Texas. This year the District 8 selection is to come from Milam County.

Other summer events were announced by Mrs. Hughes. On May 26-27 and 28 a District Camp will be held. About two girls and a leader will be sent by the Home Demonstration Clubs of the county. The girls will be selected for the expenses paid three day camp by a theme on their past 4-H work. This theme will be judged by the Council Education Committee.

The girls of the county clubs will also have a chance to attend the County Camp to be held on June 23-24 in Belton, and one of the outstanding events of the year is the Texas Roundup held each year at Texas A & M College at College Station. Delegates are chosen and county winners are eligible to attend. The annual roundup this year will be held on June 8-9 and 10, according to Mrs. Hughes.

Montreal Traveler Passes Through City

An interesting traveler passed through Cameron Wednesday. It was a 70 year old gentleman, M. Vallee Ticuad from Montreal, Canada. Mr. Ticaud was coming through on a bicycle, and it was reported that he had already traveled more than 2,000 miles up to that day, and averaged 90 miles a day on the bicycle.

Mr. Ticaud explained to a local cafe operator, where he had stopped to eat, that he was on his way to New Orleans, La. and planned to visit Victoria, Texas, after which he would head for Lincoln, Neb. and back to his home city of Montreal.

Mr. Ticaud said it was only a pleasure trip he was making.

Another Milestone in Our Marriage...

Just like you, I had heard how convenient electric dryers are. But when we got our own, I realized what a milestone it was: the end of weather worries . . . of heavy lifting, carrying, and pinning wet clothes on the line . . . and an end to wasted time on washday. Our clothes now are softer, fluffier, and smell cleaner! Best of all, I don't need a weatherman to tell me when I can wash. I dial my own sunshine in my electric dryer and dry clothes faster and better than I ever did in the back yard!

Pfc. Robert Peel Lands at Iwo Jima

Marine Pfc. Robert L. Peel, son of George H. Peel of Route 1, Cameron landed on Iwo Jima with the 3rd Marine Division during the recent "Operation Flag Hoist."

Nine years and a month after the first landing, the Marines came through the surf and dug out a beachhead in the familiar volcanic ash, amid ruins of WW II. They powered their way inland, directing their attacks against an "enemy" force acted out realistically by the 2nd Battalion, 4th Marines who had spent a month digging in for the "battle".

Following successful completion of the mission - to sieze, occupy and defend Iwo Jima - memorial services were held for the more than 4,000 Marines and Sailors who gave their lives in 1945 to take the island for use an American airbase.

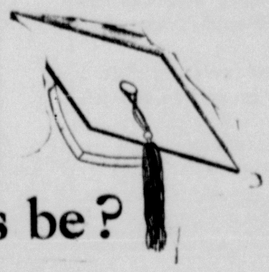
How smart can machines be?



Back in the twenties there was a stage play about mechanical men, who repaid their creators by trying to wreck civilization. "Robots" have made people uneasy ever since.

How smart can a machine be? At General Electric we're beginning to find out. For some years now we've been working with machines that come startlingly close to thinking like men.

Can they outsmart men? Just the opposite: they make men even smarter by taking over routine mental chores and freeing men for the creative thinking only human minds can encompass.

A jet engine used to be designed by trial and error. You had to build it first, or a costly model, to find out how it would work. Now, an electronic computer helps solve long and complex jet development problems in advance. In 15 minutes it goes through 8 million mathematical calculations and comes up with an answer that would take a mathematician 7 years.

In management, "hunch" is giving way to fact. Electronic data-processing machines zip through head-spinning statistics on market changes, product design and income trends to come up with the answers General Electric managers need to make sound decisions, not hopeful guesses.

Their ability to digest tons of data in a hurry may one day help the farmer by making weather predictions more accurate. They may shed new light on the reasons for boom and bust.

Machines that can read, write, do arithmetic, measure, feel, remember, now take the load off men's minds, just as machines have eased the burden on our backs.

But these fantastic machines still depend on people to design and build and guide and use them. What they replace is drudgery — not people.

Don't worry; smart though they are, machines will never be as smart as people. Not while people are smart enough to think them up, smart enough to let them do a man's drudging work.

LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER CALLS ON TEXAS LEGISLATURE TO OUTLAW NEW BOMBS BEFORE SOMEBODY GETS HURT

Editor's note: It sounds to us like the Little River Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Little River has been thinking too much about the hydrogen bomb. It affects a lot of people that way.

Dear editar:

I was out here on my Johnson grass farm yesterday afternoon tryin to steady my nerves after readin all the hydrogen bomb talk and hearin about this newest kink, the cobalt bomb which you fire up from a raft out in the ocean and row for the shore while clouds of radio-active stuff drift toward the opposite shore, wiping out all life before them, you know, some people steady their nerves by lightin into a lot of work jumpin on their tractor or grabbin a hoe, but I have never gotten that nervous.

The way I calm my nerves is to stretch out on the ground under a shade tree and watch a buzzard sail around in the sky in a big circle without ever flappin his wings, and if more people had used my method, we wouldn't have to worry over the hydrogen bomb. Wouldn't have had one.

But now that we've got it I see no reason in duckin the job of facin up to it. I notice where President Eisenhower said we have no plans for buildin a bigger bomb, the one we've got now is big enough to accomodate any city and as I see it, it's now up to the cities to get bigger if they want us to keep forgin ahead in bomb sizes.

But what I started out to say was I've been readin about the plight the cities find themselves in when they start thinkin about evacuating their citizens in case of a hydrogen bomb attack. I don't see how they're gonna do it successfully. I guess if you had time you could get all the people out of Dallas or Houston say, but it sure would be hard on bobwire fences and growin crops around there, especially if some enemy hit on the idea of stagin dummy raids, just crankin up their planes two or three times a week and headin for a city just to see the people scatter. I tell you, after five or six of these there wouldn't be a stalk of cotton or grass growin within miles of Dallas or Houston, all trampled into the ground by the fleeing citizens.

In ancient times, you know, when an enemy attacked, everybody fled to the city and shut the gate behind em, but modern civilization has reversed this trend.

What it proves is that cities probably were a mistake in the first place.

I still say, though, the Texas Legislature ought to take this thing by the horns and outlaw the hydrogen bomb before mankind rubs himself out. It's goin to be hard on Legislature if it happens and there's nobody left to tax.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Clinic Takes In All Phases Of Flower Designs

Basic arrangements of flowers in the triangular design were stressed by Mrs. Ed Allard at the Civic Garden Club clinic in the Episcopal Parish House on Thursday afternoon.

She pointed out that this, the simplest of arrangements has all of the beauty and personality of more complicated designs with none of the difficulty of arrangement.

She also lectured on the circular, horizontal and vertical arrangements, emphasizing the need of balance, rythm and particularly color.

In talking on containers she said that the matter of containers is secondary of importance, and that expensive vases are certainly not necessary since the arrangement itself is what should demand the attention of the observer.

She reminded the 40 ladies present that in each arrangement they are painting a picture and the voids are just as important as the solids; so never add too many blooms to an arrangement.

Mrs. Edwin Adams presided and gave the short welcoming address with Mrs. Leo Fuchs, program chairman, introducing Mrs. Allard.

Lunch was served by the members of the Garden Club at noon and demonstrations were made by Mrs. Allard, with each of those attending making an arrangement so that the flaws could be pointed out by her, a national flower judge, and perfection could be attained in future arrangements.

metal's production.

Following inspection of the aluminum plant, guests will be invited on a bus tour of the Sandow Power Plant.

The power facilities, which will supply electrical energy for the Rockdale Works, is operated for Alcoa by Industrial Generating Company, a subsidiary of Texas Utilities Company.

Before being burned in the boilers, the lignite is dried by a new process developed by V. F. Parry, U. S. Bureau of Mines, Denver, under the sponsorship of Texas Power & Light Company.

As the Rockdale Works swings into full production, Texas becomes the second largest producer of primary aluminum in the nation. The aluminum industry first began Texas operation in 1950 when Alcoa completed its Point Comfort Works near Port Lavaca.

The Point Comfort Works generates electricity with radial engines which burn natural gas as a fuel. Alcoa chose Rockdale for its second Texas plant because of nearby lignite deposits.

The Rockdale Works began preparation of the last of its four potlines late in March, when the starting of the second of three generating units at the Sandow Power Plant made additional power available. When in full production the plant will generate enough electricity to supply six cities the size of Austin. By April 24, all aluminum producing facilities will be in operation.

Trojans Sock Yoemen 11 to 3

Pitching Wildness was the principal factor that gave the Waco Tech Trojans a 11-3 victory over the Cameron Yoemen Monday afternoon in Katy Park.

The Trojans chipped in 10 singles but the 16 walks were the key to the easy victory. Cameron starter Alvin Baggerly walked the first three men and then gave way to Joe Michalka, who gave up the rest and all 10 hits.

Donald Dees, who was tagged for the victory, worked the first six innings for the Trojans, permitting two singles and three runs that came in the second inning on a walk, a stolen base and three quick errors.

Danny Baxley, who played a brilliant defensive game at shortstop for the Trojans, and Jesse Ingram got two singles apiece for the winning team and Baxley drove in three runs. Charles Mackenroth also pushed in three runs.

Six walks in the first inning plus a Baxley single accounted for three runs and three walks and five singles in the second gave Waco Tech five more runs, all the margin the Trojans needed.

Seeing action with the Yoemen were Alton Witt, Baggerly, Billy Slavik, George Absnaider, Jimmy Rettig, Steven Polzer, Leon Beale, Williams, Bayer, Michalka and Raymond.

SPECIAL NOTICE

The Sportsman Club of Milam County would like to enlist the aid and support of every person in Milam County, especially land owners in furthering its program of game preservation.

We have no desire to hinder anybody in pursuing his pleasure in hunting or fishing as long as it is done in accordance to law and in fairness to other people. If everybody in Milam County would obey the law there would be fish and game enough for everybody.

The Sportsman Club of Milam County has very recently caused to be placed in the streams of Milam Co. over 25,000 Channel Cat and more to be placed when available.

Hunting and fishing illegally is a serious offense. The penalty upon conviction is a $50 to $100 fine or a jail sentence.

In order to discourage game violations in Milam County, the Milam County Sportsman Club will pay a cash reward of $50.00 to any person who will furnish information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person or persons violating the game laws of Texas in Milam County.

We sincerely hope that we shall have such good cooperation that no one will have to be punished but that violation just will not occur.

Any one who wishes to be a member of the Milam County Sportsman Club and help carry on this good work is cordially invited to join.

Albert Edmonds, president.

Don Humble, vice president.

H. B. Pressley, Treasurer
